

The Christian Idea of Man

By Josef Pieper

Download now

Read Online

The Christian Idea of Man By Josef Pieper

In The Christian Idea of Man Josef Pieper brings off an extraordinary feat. He acknowledges that whoever introduces the theme of “virtue” and “the virtues” can expect to be met with a smile – of various shades of condescension. He then proceeds to single out “prudence” as the fundamental virtue on which the other cardinal virtues are based. In defining it, he does away with the shallow connotations which have debased it in modern times. Similarly, he manages to divest it of all traces of “moralism,” which, to a large extent has become identified with the Christian idea of virtue and has made it fall into general disrepute.

For Pieper, prudence is fundamentally based on a clear perception of reality – of things as they are – and the prudent person is the one who acts in accordance with this perception. It has nothing to do with knowing how to avoid decisions which might be to one’s disadvantage. Similarly, justice, which is based on prudence, involves acting toward other persons according to one’s perception of the truth of the circumstances – again, a perception of things “as they are.” This is not a reference to any “status quo,” but to the reality as constituted by the Creator.

In referring to courage [fortitude], Pieper discusses the overcoming of fear. This does not imply having no fear but, precisely, overcoming it. With regard to the fundamental fear of death, Pieper rejects the approaches which contend that there is nothing to fear in death. On the contrary, there is everything to fear in death: it concerns the question of possible absolute annihilation! Here Pieper introduces the consideration of the “theological” virtues of faith, hope, and love [charity]. When confronted with the question of possible annihilation, the Christian’s faith is paramount. Belief in God lets him confront danger and overcome even the most radical fear – through hope in God.

His love of God does not wipe out fear but gives him courage.

Moderation is seen as the last in the hierarchy of the cardinal virtues. Through its manifestation, in recent Christian thinking, with chastity and abstinence, it became in the Christian mind the most prominent characteristic of the Christian idea of man and one that dominated everything else. It has been reduced to the status of the most private of the virtues and is combined with a moralistic conception of the good. Pieper’s analysis of moderation shows how this virtue needs to be rethought, although, even then, it will remain the last in the hierarchy of virtues.

 Download The Christian Idea of Man ...pdf

 Read Online The Christian Idea of Man ...pdf

The Christian Idea of Man

By Josef Pieper

The Christian Idea of Man By Josef Pieper

In The Christian Idea of Man Josef Pieper brings off an extraordinary feat. He acknowledges that whoever introduces the theme of “virtue” and “the virtues” can expect to be met with a smile – of various shades of condescension. He then proceeds to single out “prudence” as the fundamental virtue on which the other cardinal virtues are based. In defining it, he does away with the shallow connotations which have debased it in modern times. Similarly, he manages to divest it of all traces of “moralism,” which, to a large extent has become identified with the Christian idea of virtue and has made it fall into general disrepute.

For Pieper, prudence is fundamentally based on a clear perception of reality – of things as they are – and the prudent person is the one who acts in accordance with this perception. It has nothing to do with knowing how to avoid decisions which might be to one’s disadvantage. Similarly, justice, which is based on prudence, involves acting toward other persons according to one’s perception of the truth of the circumstances – again, a perception of things “as they are.” This is not a reference to any “status quo,” but to the reality as constituted by the Creator.

In referring to courage [fortitude], Pieper discusses the overcoming of fear. This does not imply having no fear but, precisely, overcoming it. With regard to the fundamental fear of death, Pieper rejects the approaches which contend that there is nothing to fear in death. On the contrary, there is everything to fear in death: it concerns the question of possible absolute annihilation! Here Pieper introduces the consideration of the “theological” virtues of faith, hope, and love [charity]. When confronted with the question of possible annihilation, the Christian’s faith is paramount. Belief in God lets him confront danger and overcome even the most radical fear – through hope in God.

His love of God does not wipe out fear but gives him courage.

Moderation is seen as the last in the hierarchy of the cardinal virtues. Through its manifestation, in recent Christian thinking, with chastity and abstinence, it became in the Christian mind the most prominent characteristic of the Christian idea of man and one that dominated everything else. It has been reduced to the status of the most private of the virtues and is combined with a moralistic conception of the good. Pieper’s analysis of moderation shows how this virtue needs to be rethought, although, even then, it will remain the last in the hierarchy of virtues.

The Christian Idea of Man By Josef Pieper Bibliography

- Sales Rank: #252714 in Books
- Brand: St. Augustines Press
- Published on: 2011-08-30
- Original language: English
- Number of items: 1
- Dimensions: 8.50" h x .23" w x 5.50" l, .25 pounds
- Binding: Paperback
- 64 pages

 Download The Christian Idea of Man ...pdf

 Read Online The Christian Idea of Man ...pdf

Download and Read Free Online The Christian Idea of Man By Josef Pieper

Editorial Review

About the Author

The late Josef Pieper was author of numerous works in philosophy and theology. St. Augustine's Press has published a number of these: The Concept of Sin, The Silence of St. Thomas, The Silence of Goethe, Tradition, Death and Immortality, Enthusiasm and Divine Madness, Happiness and Contemplation, In Tune with the World, and Scholasticism, as well as the forthcoming Platonic Myths.

Users Review

From reader reviews:

Carol Frazier:

This The Christian Idea of Man are generally reliable for you who want to be a successful person, why. The key reason why of this The Christian Idea of Man can be among the great books you must have will be giving you more than just simple examining food but feed you actually with information that might be will shock your previous knowledge. This book is definitely handy, you can bring it almost everywhere and whenever your conditions at e-book and printed kinds. Beside that this The Christian Idea of Man forcing you to have an enormous of experience for instance rich vocabulary, giving you trial run of critical thinking that we all know it useful in your day exercise. So , let's have it and enjoy reading.

Herman Hernandez:

The Christian Idea of Man can be one of your beginner books that are good idea. Most of us recommend that straight away because this book has good vocabulary that could increase your knowledge in vocab, easy to understand, bit entertaining but still delivering the information. The article writer giving his/her effort to get every word into satisfaction arrangement in writing The Christian Idea of Man yet doesn't forget the main point, giving the reader the hottest along with based confirm resource info that maybe you can be one among it. This great information can drawn you into completely new stage of crucial pondering.

Moses Bean:

Are you kind of busy person, only have 10 or maybe 15 minute in your morning to upgrading your mind skill or thinking skill also analytical thinking? Then you have problem with the book than can satisfy your short period of time to read it because this time you only find publication that need more time to be learn. The Christian Idea of Man can be your answer mainly because it can be read by an individual who have those short time problems.

Evan Miller:

As a student exactly feel bored in order to reading. If their teacher inquired them to go to the library or make summary for some reserve, they are complained. Just minor students that has reading's soul or real their passion. They just do what the instructor want, like asked to go to the library. They go to generally there but nothing reading critically. Any students feel that examining is not important, boring along with can't see colorful pics on there. Yeah, it is to get complicated. Book is very important for you personally. As we know that on this period, many ways to get whatever we wish. Likewise word says, many ways to reach Chinese's country. So , this The Christian Idea of Man can make you feel more interested to read.

Download and Read Online The Christian Idea of Man By Josef Pieper #4PUER2TO3Z5

Read The Christian Idea of Man By Josef Pieper for online ebook

The Christian Idea of Man By Josef Pieper Free PDF d0wnl0ad, audio books, books to read, good books to read, cheap books, good books, online books, books online, book reviews epub, read books online, books to read online, online library, greatbooks to read, PDF best books to read, top books to read The Christian Idea of Man By Josef Pieper books to read online.

Online The Christian Idea of Man By Josef Pieper ebook PDF download

The Christian Idea of Man By Josef Pieper Doc

The Christian Idea of Man By Josef Pieper Mobipocket

The Christian Idea of Man By Josef Pieper EPub

4PUER2TO3Z5: The Christian Idea of Man By Josef Pieper