Editorial Review

Review

"A brilliantly written argument that changed the course of history." - Vice President Al Gore

"Catching the life breath of science on the still glass of poetry." Time Magazine

About the Author

Rachel Carson (1907–1964) spent most of her professional life as a marine biologist with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. By the late 1950s, she had written three lyrical, popular books about the sea, including the best-selling The Sea Around Us, and had become the most respected science writer in America. She completed Silent Spring against formidable personal odds, and with it shaped a powerful social movement that has altered the course of history.

Sue Hubbell is the author of, among other works, A Country Year and A Book of Bees, which was selected as a New York Times Notable Book. She lives in Maine and Washington, D.C.

Martha Fincher:

As a college student exactly feel bored in order to reading. If their teacher requested them to go to the library in order to make summary for some guide, they are complained. Just very little students that has reading's soul or real their pastime. They just do what the teacher want, like asked to go to the library. They go to generally there but nothing reading critically. Any students feel that looking at is not important, boring and can't see colorful pictures on there. Yeah, it is to become complicated. Book is very important for yourself. As we know that on this age, many ways to get whatever we wish. Likewise word says, ways to reach Chinese's country. Therefore , this The Edge of the Sea can make you really feel more interested to read.
